Peking Problem Soon Settled
if Tokio Ends Activity.

Canton Mission Says Settlement
ment Easy at Paris.

as Oriental Countries Must Work Together, They Insist.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—In a statement tonight commencing with a statement at Paris yesterday by Baron Makino, Japan's senior statesman, regarding the attitude of Japan in the Peace Conference toward the return of Tsing-Tao to China, the official mission here of the Canton government, asserted that Japan's problems could be solved if the Japanese ceased their activities in China. They also said that it was disappointing that the mission failed to indicate the nature of the notes exchanged by Japan and China in 1917, under the terms of which it was now proposed to return Tsing-Tao.
The statement concluded with the declaration that the Chinese people, who had been represented at the Peace Conference, were in complete agreement regarding the return of Tsing-Tao to China, and that the delegates were in complete agreement regarding the return of Tsing-Tao to China, and that the delegates were in complete agreement regarding the return of Tsing-Tao to China.

JAPAN'S DEMANDS
The notes formed part of a series of treaties which Japan compelled China to sign under a threat of violence contained in an ultimatum delivered on May 7, 1915. The notes contained in Chinese opinion, as the Japanese government has stated, "a number of demands, subject to the following conditions."
1.—Opening of the whole of Kiao-Chow as commercial ports.
2.—Establishment of Japanese settlements in the locality to be designated by the Japanese government.
3.—Establishment, if desired, by the powers of an international commission.
4.—Arrangements to be made before the return of the said territory is effected, between the Japanese and Chinese governments, with respect to the disposal of German public establishments and properties and with regard to the German conditions and procedures.
5.—China's problems, the statement said.

Japan's Making as a well-known and highly-placed Japanese official, who could not be named, said that the real source of the trouble was the Japanese government. He must prove that the Japanese government could be solved if the Japanese ceased their activities in China and realized in the sense of deed and action the declaration that "at the time when the goal is being reached, new hopes, goals, and methods must be found. It is of the nature of the world that it is friendly and co-operation between Japan and China."

FIRST "CAMP FIRE" OF KIWANIS CLUB HELD

"The kind of a man to be in the world is a regular, out-and-out 'man,'" according to Dr. Arthur W. Rider, who last night addressed the first annual "camp fire" of the Kiwanis Club of Los Angeles at the Jonathan Club. "Be a man, be a man, or get out of the world," the advice that Dr. Rider gave the fifty or more members gathered to enjoy the entertainment and social meeting.

William W. Widenham, president of the organization, presided. Among those who took part in the program were Mrs. Helen Brown, John Smallman, H. C. Chubb, Harry King, Charles Robinson and L. F. Johnson. An amusing act entitled "The Indian" was put on by Edgar Temple, Dr. Feltman, Johnson and Harry Brown.

ARMENIANS DIE BY THOUSANDS.

American Red Cross Appealed

Many Desistute Also Naked,
Sevally Reports.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Miran Sevasly, chairman of the Armenian National Union of America, called on State Department officials today to present further reports of the tragic conditions of the Armenian refugees in Syria, Palestine, Egypt, Mesopotamia, Persia and the Caucasus.
Messages say refugees are dying by thousands.
Gen. Clayton, British commander in Syria and Palestine, Mr. Sevasly said, has called that at least 150,000 is needed monthly to care for the Armenian refugees alone in those two regions, and the Armenian national council in Paris, which represents the de facto government of Armenia, has appealed to the supreme war council for funds and assistance.

CALIFORNIA IGNORED IN PROVING GROUNDS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Southern California, with Rockwell and Marsh fields, second to none in the world, is completely ignored in the testing of private airplanes. This is soon to be one of the most important tests in the country. Those who see the future look toward the new and the new sport will come to the fore in Southern California faster than anywhere else in the world, for there are conditions ideal for air jaunting over land and sea.
But, there is no cohesion of the delegates of California, Oregon and Washington. It has been asserted by government officials that if the men representing these States would get together the State would get what it is entitled to, and the Pacific Coast would sit at the first table instead of getting a handout at the back.

LIU, FRANK LUKE FOUGHT TO DEATH.

Two industrial plants were seized in locating here, the Mission Woolen Mills and the Santa Ana Cante factory. The woolen mills paid out $27,000 in wages and the cante company $7500.

CONTRACTORS' PAY.

Senate Rushes Bill to Validate Irregular Orders for Goods.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—With the hope of reaching a final vote before adjournment tomorrow, the Senate devoted another day to consideration of the bill for the validation and settlement of informal war contracts. The measure, which was framed by the Military Affairs Committee as a substitute for the House bill, was amended in several minor details.

Without a record vote, the Senate tentatively accepted an amendment offered by Senator McKellar of Tennessee, providing that in no case shall any award made include "prospective or possible profits on any part of a contract beyond the goods and supplies delivered to and accepted by the government, and a reasonable profit for expenditures and obligations necessarily incurred in the performance of the contract."

The amendment, it was explained, was designed to prevent claims for profits and on all important items which had not been started at the time of cancellation.

Amendment by Senator Pomerehne of Ohio, which was also adopted, would authorize the Secretary of War to settle the amount awarded to prime contractors among subcontractors. The amendment also would give the claims of subcontractors priority over those of other creditors.

RAPID PROGRESS MADE ON WAR TAX MEASURE.

CONFEREES TO REPORT BILL
TO HOUSES ON MONDAY IS PLAN NOW.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Rapid progress in reaching a final agreement on the War Revenue Bill was made today by the conferees, and Chairman Simmons of the Senate managers said tonight it was planned to complete the work tomorrow and present the report Saturday.

Initial action on the conference report is to be taken by the House, Democratic Leader Kitchin, it was stated, plans to call up the report for discussion Monday. Debate in the House is expected to be brief, but several days' discussion generally is anticipated in the Senate.

Agreements have been reached, Senator Simmons said tonight, on all except a few Senate amendments and a few important tax rate questions. Many administrative provisions, however, remain to be adjusted tomorrow.

Among agreements reached today was on the estate inheritance tax. The Senate conference yielded on inheritance instead of estates, on the original House rates on small estates and increases on larger ones.

TROOP SUPPLY SHIP
SAVES SEVEN SEAMEN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BALTIMORE, Jan. 28.—The army cargo transport Isabella arrived here today from France bringing seven shipwrecked seamen. Six of them were Capt. Charles H. Lake and the crew of five of the schooner Francis B. Mesquite, all Englishmen. They were taken off the schooner, together with Ernest Brake, an American, thought to have been the sole survivor of a ship which sank. The vessel's name was not learned. Brake had been transferred to the Mesquite from the steamer Success. Later the Mesquite was caught in a terrific storm off New England. Her crew was about to abandon ship when the Isabella came up in response to her distress signals and took the men aboard.

LOVING HUSBAND IS WIDOW'S PLEA.

Insurance of Late Mate Offered as an Inducement to Fill His Shoes.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Here is a good opportunity for a discharged soldier out of a job.

Representative Guy E. Campbell of Pennsylvania today received the following letter from a war widow at Carnegie, Pa.:

"I want to thank you very much for your kind assistance in obtaining my late husband's $10,000 insurance from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance."

"Now, will you do one more favor for me? Will you find me a nice loving man for a husband because I don't care for any of the men here and I am amply able to take care of a good husband. I would prefer one who stayed at home instead of going to war."

"I have a four-room flat all furnished. My insurance money and some other property."

"All inquiries should be addressed to Representative Campbell."

LIMITS CONTROL OF TELEGRAPHS.*Moon Resolution Trimmed by Republicans.*Makes Return of Companies Date December 31.Democrats Outvoted in Committee; Fight Ahead.[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]*WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Government control of telegraph and telephone properties would end next December 31 under a resolution ordered favorably reported today by the House Postoffice Committee by a vote of 10 to 3. Chairman Moon announced that he would present the measure in the House tomorrow and ask for a rule to give it right of way.

The resolution made no mention of cable properties, and that phase of the situation was not discussed at the meeting of the committee. Members later expressed various opinions as to the effect of the legislation on Federal control of those properties which was assumed by Presidential proclamation last November under the authority given in the original war control resolution passed by Congress last July 16.

Chairman Moon said the new legislation would not affect the original law, in so far as it applied to cable properties, control of which would have to be relinquished with the issuing of a proclamation by the President announcing the signing of the treaty of peace and its ratification.

Other members expressed a definite opinion that the cable properties were controlled by the telegraph companies. They thought that the cable would be automatically extended. There were still other committee members who believed the question would have to be settled in the courts.

Various dates for termination of control of the telegraph and telephone companies were suggested after the committee had concluded its hearings on the original administration bill.

Postmaster-General Burleson. The first proposal was for restoration of the properties to private management next May 30, but this and another to extend the time to December 31, 1920, were voted down.

RESOLUTION TRIMMED.

As introduced by Chairman Moon, the resolution authorized the Postmaster-General to negotiate contracts for the purchase of telegraph and telephone companies and to have an appraisal made of the telephone properties, but the provisions were stricken out by the committee. Mr. Burleson and other proponents of the legislation insisted that the purpose was to extend the period of control and not to bring about government ownership.

On the final vote as announced by the committee, three Democrats joined with seven Republicans to support the resolution.

Mr. Burleson, Illinois; Grist, Pennsylvania; Copley, Illinois; Paige, Massachusetts; Woodard, West Virginia; Rensselaer, Texas; Democrats: Bell of Georgia, Holland, Virginia; Black, Texas; 3.

Against, Democrats: Moon, Tennessee; Sterling, Pennsylvania; Oliver, New York; Houston, Kentucky; Blackmon, Alabama; Beakes, Michigan; and Ayers, Kansas; 7.

Prohibitionist: Randall, California.

Mr. Burleson favored a longer period of government control than that proposed by the committee, while he was before the committee. He said "the danger" would be that Congress would have been in session but a month, and declared that he regarded the question as one of the greatest importance because of the importance of the telephone and telegraph companies in the development of the country.

He wished to insure government ownership he would turn back the system at once, but added that he thought the "interest of the business men should be looked after."

READS WAR'S LETTER.

While Mr. Burleson was on the stand Representative Madden read into the record a letter from George W. Ward, vice-president of the Commercial Cable Company, to the Postmaster-General, dated January 23, which said: "The British government forbids our placing the Commercial Cable Company or its cables under the control of its competitor, the Western Union Telegraph Company."

The Postoffice Department tonight made public a copy of Mr. Burleson's reply to Mr. Ward, in which he said:

"It seems only necessary to state that the British government is exercising control of the property and over persons connected with the Commercial Cable Company located in the British possession. And under the joint resolution of Congress, the government is controlling the operation of the cable properties within its jurisdiction."

"You have been relieved by me of all duties affecting the operation of cables of your company, so far as the jurisdiction of this government is concerned over the cables of the Commercial company. I have no instructions to issue to you in regard to any requirements that the British government may require of you as an officer of the Commercial company as a corporation, and relating to the property of the company or the cables of the company, or agents located and operating in the British possessions, and with respect to which that government has assumed control."

FLU WAVE REPORTED RETIRING ON COAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]*SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Health authorities of Oregon, Washington and California reported today that the second wave of the influenza epidemic is wearing itself out.

BAIRD WINNER IN MAIN BOUT.

Is Awarded the Decision Over Al Grunin.

Record-Breaking Crowd at Doyle's Pavilion.

Young Farrell Wins from Teddy Frenchie.

Lieut. Earl Baird is some scrapper—at least the biggest house that ever filed into Jack Doyle's famous Veynon pavilion thought so last night. Earl was stacked up against Al Grunin in the main event of the evening. The fracas was a hum-dinger from beginning to end. For a spell in the first round it looked as if Grunin was going to take the army man's measure, but after a lapse of a minute or so, Baird tore in and showed what stuff he is made of. Toward the end of this session, he was beginning to cut down a slight lead Al had piled up on him. In the second round, Earl discovered a nasty short right swing and left uppercut. On several occasions he shook up his man with these and toward the end almost toppled Al over with a terrific right to the stomach. The blow was a little too high or the scrap would have ended then and there. The third round found Earl still holding a good lead. He delivered a heavy right to the stomach that made Grunin wince. The latter had slowed up considerably, but still shot over his favorite right uppercut now and then. The round was easily Baird's.

In the finale, both boys had tired so palpably that their blows began to lack force. Of the two, Grunin was the more spent, but he stole the fight with Earl and gave him as good as he sent. Baird was given a well earned decision. The verdict was rendered by two newspaper men in conjunction with Referee Claude Mitchell.

Young Farrell met Teddy Frenchie in the semi-final. In the second round, Frenchie palpably fouled Farrell. The latter went to the floor to assist and referee did so. Referee Mitchell awarded him the verdict. However, as Farrell soon recovered he declared he hated to spoil a good bout and was willing to go on again. From then on, he looked very much as if Frenchie gave him his opponent a good drubbing, but to the surprise of many present, the referee raised Farrell's arm. It was evidently a sympathy verdict.

Kid Mende and his fighting heart was too much for Frankie Monroe. The kid was usual fare in as the bell sounded for the fourth round and beat Frankie all over the ring. It was easily the kid's bout.

Ralph Lincoln and young Brown fought a draw—George Mark knocked out Joe Kenniston at the end of the first round. The crowd called for an extra bout and Doyle kindly acceded. Kid Layman and Joe Brown were substituted, boxing to a draw. Young Pappe put it on Sydney White.

A. W. Hennrikus did the announcing. State Senator George Easton, the man who is fathering the ten-round boxing bill for California, was introduced and received a hearty welcome. He referred one of the bouts and his decision was well received.

WILL PLAY FOR HANDBALL TITLE

Marvin Friedenber Meets Joe Lacey Today.

Battle for the Championship of the State.

Close and Exciting Contest is Expected.

The first of a series of two matches to determine the handball championship of California will take place this afternoon at the Olympic Club. Joe Lacey, Southern California titleholder, will clash with Marvin Friedenber, northern champion.

Lacey has been in San Francisco practicing for today's match for the past week and a half. He will represent the Los Angeles Athletic Club, while Friedenber will wear the colors of the winged "G"—the Olympic Club.

According to word received here yesterday by Charlie Keppen, who is manager of athletics of the athletic club, Lacey is in excellent trim and is confident of returning home with championship honors.

Throughout the north, Friedenber is considered one of the best handball players ever developed by the Olympic Club. An exceptionally hard-fought match is contemplated by handball enthusiasts who are acquainted with the playing ability of the contestants. Evidence of this may be obtained from the fact that no odds are being given by those sportsmen wagering a good cigar or an exchange of drinks—such as lemonade, etc.

Contrary to custom, a tennis ball will be used in today's match. In Southern California handball circles, the regulation Irish handball is always used in match games. But in the north, the players invariably use a tennis ball. This handicap has in a way been overcome by Lacey, for he has been giving considerable of his training period to getting acquainted with the peculiar antics of a tennis ball on a four-wall court.

In case of a tie, a return match, under all probability, will be staged at the Los Angeles Athletic Club court two weeks hence. Local club men are optimistic and declare that no return match will be necessary.

CLUB BASKET TEAM WINNER.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club basketball team won its first victory of the season last night on the club court by defeating the Naval Reserve team 30 to 20. The team played basketball instead of resorting to rough tactics they might have been able to increase their final score.

REDLANDS NEW TITLE HOLDER.

REDLANDS, Jan. 26.—Redlands High School football team has clinched the championship of the Citrus Belt League by defeating Riverside by a score of 24 to 25. The locals found Allee to be a team himself for he made one of the points for Riverside. Redlands has defeated Riverside, San Bernardino and Chaffee. Whether the season has been so late that no more games may be scheduled, Coach Daniels had to wait for the team to start his team with this year and he has developed a backfield that is the finest Redlands has had recently. Sturtevant, the crack quarter-back of the team, is a freshman this year.

WRESTLERS DUE HERE SHORTLY.

Mike Yokel, the Wyoming "wild cat," who will hook up with Ted Thye, the demon wrestler of the Northwest, started last night for this city. It is expected that Yokel will arrive here Thursday and Thye will probably be here the following day.

Both men are in the welterweight division, and are scheduled to grapple the evening of February 6 in the Los Angeles Athletic Club gymnasium. The winner of the match will be given a chance to wrestle the title for this division from Walter Miller, who acts in the capacity of instructor of wrestling at the club.

Dopsters are picking Thye to win because of his youth and the fact that he has great strength in his legs, all of which are assets lacking in Yokel. It has been said that if Thye is able to get behind Yokel and thereby throw his weight on his opponent, the furious Mike will be forced to give in because of being exhausted. However, a great match is in store for followers of the mat game when the two men meet.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappears and has been recommended for sixty years. Stop dragging kidneys! They don't cause backache, because they have no nerves, therefore cannot cause pain.

The People and Their Trouble

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

The Times is a great asset to the community. It is a source of information and a platform for the expression of public opinion. It is a source of information and a platform for the expression of public opinion.

Work for the Soldiers.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Apropos of the subject of what is to become of the men who are discharged from our army, and who return to their homes towns only to find no immediate employment available, I do not favor the plan of giving these men six months' pay, for the reason that, in many instances, this would be more or less detrimental to the individual. Idleness certainly is not conducive to good citizenship, and, besides, the men earnestly desire to work, and this should be furnished at all costs.

There are bridges to build, railroads to be improved, and much work all over our country is waiting to be done. If employment could be furnished those who find their former positions filled, work to be available for six months, by the end of that period the men would be able to adjust themselves to conditions.

A Perfumed Flu Preventive.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] While the flu epidemic continues along the lines of preventive propaganda on the subject of influenza runs its course, I would be pleased if you would accord me the privilege of a few lines, which I believe is of much more value as a preventive measure than the wearing of the mask. The use of ordinary perfume drives away insects. The free use of same on the person has a disinfectant action on ordinary germs. Why will it not have a similar action on extraordinary germs? Therefore, if a person has a disinfectant action on ordinary germs. Why will it not have a similar action on extraordinary germs? Therefore, if a person has a disinfectant action on ordinary germs.

Sierra Madre, Cal.

Alcohol and Influenza.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), Jan. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Under the prohibitory law in the State of Washington it is mandatory, according to a telegram from Spokane, that all liquor seized from bootleggers shall be destroyed. In compliance with this law many thousands of gallons of liquors have been poured into the sewers. Recently, however, the influenza epidemic has swept over that State and the doctors have demanded that whiskey seized shall be turned over to the medical fraternity.

The Sheriff at Spokane has responded to the appeal and he is now, according to this telegram, openly defying the law by turning over seized liquors to the health department, which department is selling them under doctors' prescriptions. This telegram further says: "The police judge has also ordered the Chief of Police to turn over to the health department certain quantities of whiskey that were within the jurisdiction of his court, so that now whiskey is being dispensed from the health office on the presentation of a physician's prescription. In some instances the liquor is delivered at the residence of the applicant by a health office inspector."

Query: Why should bootleggers be penalized for violating the law when the same law is being openly violated by the Sheriff, the health department and the police judge? On July 1 there will be about 80,000,000 gallons of whiskey remaining in bond; also millions of gallons of wine will remain. These goods, however, cannot be made use of to save human lives, because it will be a felony for the owners of wine or whiskey, after July 1, to write a letter offering such goods for sale.

What will the doctors do next winter if the influenza returns?

T. M. GILMORE.

The Rooster Issue.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] One of your correspondents complains about her neighbors' roosters crowing and keeping her awake at night. For my part I would rather hear roosters crow than hear dogs bark. I believe that if people would kill off their dogs and keep chickens instead to eat up their garbage it would greatly reduce the cost of living.

During the war it was estimated that there was food enough wasted on worthless dogs to support a small army in France. At any rate, I am sure the food that it takes to keep a dog well fed could keep a child in Europe from starving.

S. S. MORROW.

German Holchevism.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The hour of the world's crisis is at hand. The combined efforts of Friedrich Nietzsche and Carl Marx, two recognized German master minds, have turned all Europe into a roaring inferno. Prof. Nietzsche taught the superhuman idea of the mind and pictured in his philosophy a man all brain and brawn with no conscience. This fellow arrived during the world war. What the Nietzsche philosophy did to the German mind, the teachings of Carl Marx on socialist questions have done for the German government. Bolshevism is the fruit of the school of Prof. Marx.

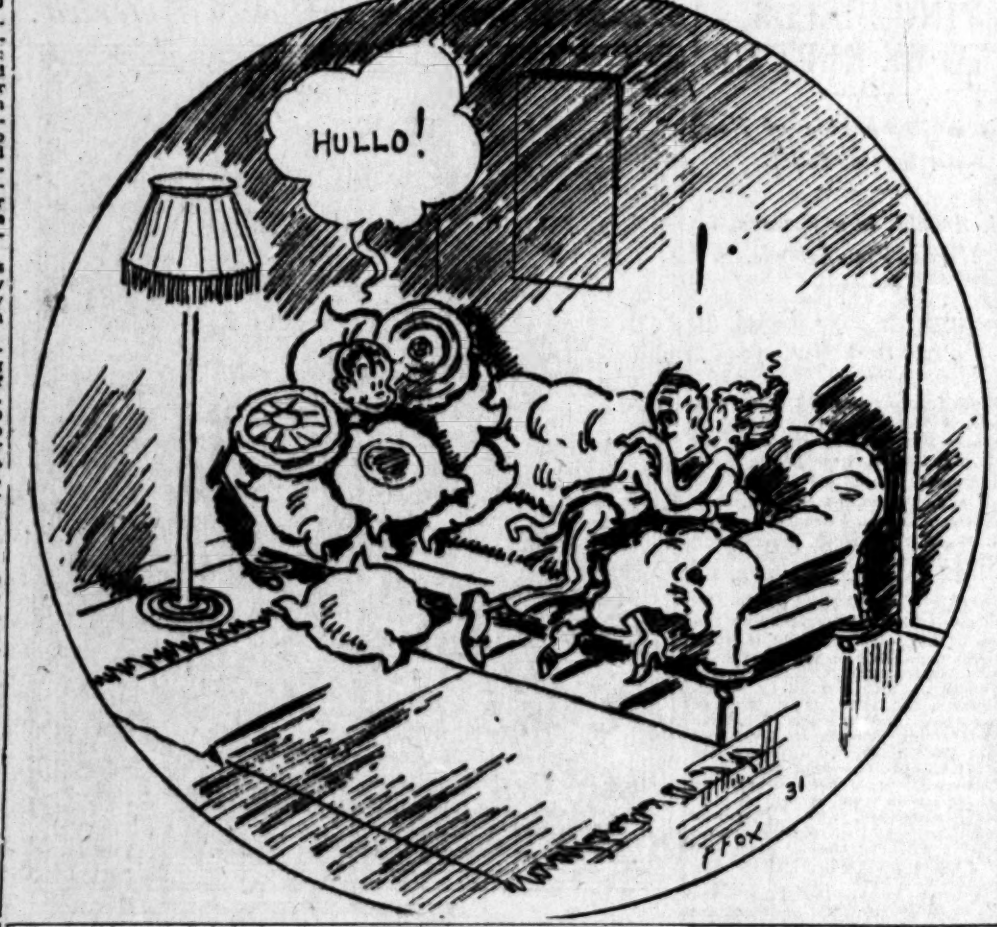

Germany gave the Bolsheviks to Russia, and now Russia is returning it with interest.

Where Airplanes Might Help.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The flu is still with us and we are wondering how it is to be conquered. We must first seize the cause. It has been suggested that the gaser generated in Europe and absorbed by the air are being conveyed to the whole world by the turning of the earth on its axis. It is a plausible theory.

Now for the remedy. I ask the scientists and chemists to invent an antiseptic and have our airplanes utilized in scattering it.

S. J. PAINE.

Her War Decorations.

Wearing decorations from the French, Russian, Belgian and Montenegrin governments, Mrs. Nina Larrey Duryea of New York arrived in the United States aboard the French liner Espagne. She is president of the Duryea war relief in France and was the first American woman to cross the battlefields of the Somme, the Argonne and the Ardennes. Her organization, she said, has clothed more than 150,000 sufferers from the war and has fed and sheltered many other thousands.

DOMESTIC JOY.

"Tired with Them. Father," asked the young boy, "what's this 'inheritance tax' that they're talking about up at Sacramento?" "It's when your mother taxes all your inherited faults on me, my son."

Wild Cat and Devil. Mr. and Mrs. Hardupson had just finished sitting at a cafeteria and had had a few "words." Gathering up her handbag and handkerchief, she curtly said, "I guess I'll take you to the Superba and let you see the 'Wild Cat of Paris!'" "What's the matter," he observed, "with going to Ray's Garden and letting you see Theda in 'The She Devil'?"

Their Uniforms. "Do you favor uniform divorce laws?" she asked of him at the breakfast table. "I do," replied emphatically. "Some of those that members of your sex are wearing these days should give any man a divorce."

The Issue Lodged. "Darling," she queried, "would you ever marry again if I died?" "That is hardly a fair question, dear." "Why?" "If I were to say I would, you would feel hurt, and to say 'Never again' would be uncomplimentary."

As a Man Does. "I hope Tompkins took his misfortune like a man," he observed as his wife told him of a neighborhood mishap. "He did," she replied dryly; "he blamed it on his wife."

The Retort Sarcastic. "What's the use arguing with a person who doesn't know anything?" he asked irritably. "But I wasn't arguing with you, love, she said sweetly."

For the Locomakers.

The Red Cross has given $20,000 to the women locomakers of Belgium to purchase raw material for their work. This sum of money will be used as the capital of a co-operative and the 40,000 locomakers will each be the owner of a share of stock.

WHAT IS "OWED" US

A correspondent who takes his troubles a bit seriously, writes to say that though he works every week day, and sometimes on Sunday, he "cannot give his family the things necessary to right living." He thinks the "present system of things is all wrong," and he doesn't approve of The Times denouncing the Bolsheviks unless "the great United States government can enact laws protecting the working class."

A trouble with this correspondent is that he seems to think, as probably do a great many other persons, that the world owes everybody a living. As a matter of fact, the world owes nobody anything. That is, nothing which he does not earn.

The rule of life which we adopt must not rest upon some dazling misconception of the nature of the world. Existence must be honestly accepted, and its shadows as well as its sunlit frankly recognized.

Nevertheless, we must have courage and make the best of the world we live in. Our task, perhaps, is a threefold one: to adjust ourselves seriously to what are realities; to face life bravely, willing to hope and confidence in the heart of the world; to avoid, in living to believe and daring to hope, the deadening extreme of willful blindness.

This does not mean that we must accept as perfect, or permanently necessary, the present system, to be termed employed by our country. The old order constantly is changing, all day, in the long run, for the better. But the change to be lasting and beneficial must be a gradual process an evolution rather than a revolution.

At the present time a stupendous progressive movement is under way. Old precedents are being swept aside, and although in the sweeping some danger lurks, eventually many undesirable things will go with them into the discard. The man of today who does not fully comprehend this is doomed to be somewhat of a failure, while the man who does understand it will have taken a long stride toward success.

As for the implication of the correspondent that because he works six (or seven) days a week, and cannot have all he would like to have, therefore he should not support the present "system," it is sufficient to remember that the times are a little out of joint everywhere. And the men and women of Europe, who also have been working seven days a week, have been able to give their families far less than he probably has been able to give his.

It requires no lengthy discussion to show the man of clear vision that what the world owes him is, after all, what he owes to himself.

UNCLE DAVID.

Passadena's Question.

Don't you think we've been wearing this long enough these rags upon our faces? Oh, here's God's free air to breathe at home and other places. J. A. MacKINNON.

LITTLE HELPS.

Maude Lyman of Boyle Heights is grappling with the age-old problem. Says she: "How can I make my home happy or at least attractive enough so that the husband would come to it on pay day, at least? It seems as if he can hardly come home long enough to change his collar to go away again. I do not think there is another woman, as he is not handsome—although in his younger days he was said to have a roving eye. What would I be justified in doing?"

It is better to see kindnesses done than to see them done. It is better to see kindnesses done than to see them done. It is better to see kindnesses done than to see them done.
